

1993 is the same for all pay grades. The DIC amount paid for a spouse with one or more children of the deceased retiree is increased for each child.

The amount of the DIC payment for parents varies according to the number of parents, the amount of their individual or combined total annual income, and whether they live together or, if remarried, live with a spouse. The surviving spouse and parents who receive DIC may be granted a special allowance for aid and attendance if a patient is in a nursing home, disabled, or blind and requires the regular aid and attendance of another person. If they are not so disabled as to require the regular aid and attendance of another person but due to disability are permanently housebound, they may be granted additional special allowances. DIC payments to a surviving spouse are payable for life, as long as the spouse does not remarry on or after attaining age 57, and on or after December 16, 2003, can continue to receive DIC. Should the surviving spouse remarry, payments are terminated, but may be restored if the subsequent marriage ends in death, divorce or annulment. Your CAR or the nearest VA office will explain the benefit to you, the amount that can be paid, and help you complete the required claim forms. For current rates visit the VA website at:

http://www.benefits.va.gov/COMPENSATION/types-dependency\_and\_indemnity.asp.

The claim form required to apply for this benefit is VA Form 21 3-534 ( =, Application for Dependency and Indemnity Compensation or Death Pension Accrued Benefits by Surviving Spouse or Child, or VA Form 21 3-535, Application for Dependency and Indemnity Compensation by Parent(s).

16. Denial of Claim for DIC. If the VA denies your claim for DIC benefits, you may file an appeal. The appeal must be filed within 1 year from the date of notification of the VA denial.

17. Nonservice-Connected Death Pension. If the VARO determines that you are not eligible for DIC, you may be eligible to apply for a nonservice-connected death pension. Surviving spouses of deceased members with wartime service and unmarried children under age 18, age 23 if attending a VA-approved school, may be eligible for this pension if they meet income limitations prescribed by law. Qualifying children who become incapable of self-support because of a disability before age 18 may be eligible for a pension as long as the condition exists, unless the child marries or the child's income exceeds the income limit. The rate of pension depends on the amount of income the surviving spouse or child receives from other sources. A pension is not payable to those whose estates are so large that it is reasonable to assume the estate will maintain them financially. Eligible survivors should make application through the local VA office. The VA will determine your eligibility.

18. Veterans' Educational Assistance Program (VEAP) and Montgomery GI Bill Refunds. If the retiree contributed to either of these programs, you may be entitled to a death refund. The refund is made to the designated beneficiary of VGLI in absence of a designation it is paid "By Law" fashion to the spouse, children, and parents, and will not be paid to anyone else in the "By Law" chain. If you are eligible to receive the death benefit refund, submit a letter, along with proof of relationship and a copy of the death certificate, or DD Form 1300, Report of Casualty, to the appropriate VARO listed below. Your CAR or the nearest VA office can help you apply for a refund of contributions.

19. Social Security Payments. Social Security monthly benefits are paid to a spouse or a divorced spouse, age 60 or over; a spouse or divorced spouse regardless of age with children of the decedent under age 16 or disabled in their care and meeting Social Security requirements. A divorced spouse must have been married to the service member at least 10 years. Monthly payments are also paid to children under age 18, or under age 19, if a full-time student at a primary or secondary school, or age 18 or older and disabled before age 18. Spouses who wait until age 65 to apply for Social Security receives maximum benefits. However, they can receive reduced Social Security payments between ages 60 and 65. Dependent parents are eligible for benefits at age 62 if they were more than 50 percent dependent on the deceased service member for their support. The amount paid can only be determined by the Social Security Administration, which has a record of the wages earned by the retiree during the period of both military and civilian employment under the Social Security Program. To apply for this benefit, eligible survivors must make application through the nearest Social Security Office. They will explain the benefit, determine your eligibility, the amount to be paid, and help you complete the required claim forms. Survivors should apply early, as the law generally permits retroactive payments of 12 months.

20. Social Security Lump Sum Death Payment. The Social Security Administration pays a lump sum death payment, up to $255, to the surviving spouse living with the member at the time of death. If there is no surviving spouse, it is paid to the child(ren) who was eligible for or entitled to Social Security benefits during the month of the member's death. No other survivors are entitled to this benefit. This benefit is paid even if burial, funeral, or memorial benefits were paid by Air Force. To receive this benefit, eligible survivors must make application through the nearest Social Security Office. This office will explain the benefit, determine your eligibility, the amount to be paid, and help you complete the required claim forms.

Section D – Travel of Eligible Family Members and Shipment of Household Goods

1. Space Available Travel. Upon the death of a retired member, the retiree's eligible family members lose all entitlement to space-available travel.

2. Dependent Travel and Shipment of Household Goods. In most cases when a retiree dies, there are no entitlements for shipment of household goods (HHG). However, if the retiree dies during the first year following retirement or during an extension to the original entitlement the travel and transportation entitlement goes to the dependents. Normally, a retiree's entitlement to home of selection (HOS) travel and transportation of HHG ends after one year unless it has been extended by the Joint Personal Property Shipping Office-San Antonio (JPPSO-SAT), 3515 South General McMullen, San Antonio TX 78241-6420 (medical and educational requests) or the Transition and Relocation Office at the Air Force Personnel Center (AFPC/DPFF), 550 C St. West Suite 11, JBSA-Randolph, TX 78150-4713 (other deserving cases). The Transportation Management Office can provide assistance in requesting an extension. Include a copy of the retiree's death certificate or DD Form 1300 Report of Casualty (for retiree deaths occurring within 120 days after retiring) and an explanation of the reason the extension is required. Once HHG arrive at the requested destination further shipment is not authorized.

3. Storage in Transit. Storage in transit may be authorized at Air Force expense for up to 90 days in connection with any authorized move. This storage is in connection with a shipment of household goods. When, under certain conditions, the household goods cannot be withdrawn in the first 90 days, a request for an additional 90 days storage should be made to the TMO controlling your storage account and with a brief explanation for the reason the additional length of time for the storage is required. Temporary storage is limited to 180 days.

4. Non-temporary Storage. The Air Force authorizes non-temporary storage for a period not to exceed 1 year from the date of retirement. Furniture may be stored in the vicinity of the place where the property is located on the date of death. When property is overseas on the date of death, it will be returned to a CONUS port of entry for non-temporary storage. Contact the nearest TMO, where the property is located, for arrangements.

5. Claims for Loss or Destruction of Personal Property. If there is loss, damage, or destruction of personal property, the NOK may be entitled to a monetary payment. This includes destruction of property due to transportation of household goods and personal effects. If you believe you have such a claim, contact the legal claims officer at the nearest military installation for assistance in filing your claims. You must file a claim within 2 years of discovering the loss or damage.

Section E – Continued Service Benefits and Privileges

1. Basic Information. The loss of your loved one does not mean an end to certain military benefits and privileges you now receive. You may continue to receive medical care at medical facilities of the Uniformed Services, in select former public health hospitals designated by the Department of Defense as Uniformed Services treatment facilities, and civilian inpatient and outpatient care, subject to limitations as determined by local medical authorities. You may use the commissary, Base Exchange, and morale, welfare and recreation activities, which includes theaters at bases where these facilities are available.

Although every effort is made to provide these benefits and privileges, at some installations the facilities may be adequate only for the assigned military personnel and their eligible family members. In such cases, the commander of the installation has the right to deny you the use of those facilities. In some overseas areas, the use of Service benefits and privileges may not be extended to families of deceased retirees due to agreements entered into between the United States and the host country. If you plan to travel or live abroad, let your CAR help you determine the benefits and privileges available in the country where you plan to live. To determine if you are eligible for any of the Service benefits and privileges mentioned, read the brief discussion of each below.

2. Uniformed Services Identification and Privilege Card (ID card). The ID card is used as a means of identification to determine eligibility for the following benefits and privileges: health benefits in Uniformed Services facilities and from civilian sources, commissary and Base Exchange privileges, and admission to morale, welfare, and recreation activities, which include military theaters. Each card shows the benefits and a privilege authorized for the holder and allows the use of these benefits and privileges at Uniformed Services installations where adequate services and facilities are available. This is the same type of card you may now have. If this card was issued while the deceased retiree was living, it is no longer valid. On the death of a retired member, the ID card held by their surviving family members must be canceled and a new ID card issued. Your CAR will assist you in obtaining your new ID Card. The card is issued to all eligible surviving family members 10 years of age or over who are eligible for one or more of the Service benefits and privileges mentioned in this guide. The card issued to the surviving spouse may identify children under 10 years of age. If the surviving spouse is deceased or not entitled, the child under age 10 may be issued a separate card.

3. Medical and Dental Benefits. TRICARE is the Department of Defense managed health care program designed to improve beneficiary access to care, assure affordable and high-quality care, provide choice, and contain costs to beneficiaries and the Department of Defense. TRICARE offers eligible family members a choice of the following health care options: Standard, Extra, Prime, Plus and TRICARE For Life. Each option has different cost sharing features and degrees of freedom for using civilian providers. TRICARE Service Centers are established at or near each military installation to assist family members in obtaining care and services as necessary.

4. For those eligible members seeking enrollment in TRICARE Prime, the Uniformed Services Military Treatment Facility (USMTF) commander will determine, based on availability of providers or other operational requirements, when and whether to offer the enrollment opportunity at the USMTF. If there is not sufficient capacity/availability for you to enroll at the USMTF, you may be told to choose a provider in the civilian network. Dependent parents or parents-in-law are eligible for care, on a space available basis, from (USMTF) and are not eligible for any TRICARE funded care purchased from civilian providers. The only exception is that for those parents or parents-in-law over age 65 and who are Medicare eligible and may be eligible for the TRICARE Senior Pharmacy Program. If their 65th birthday was after 1 October 2001 they must purchase Medicare Part B in order to qualify for the TRICARE Senior Pharmacy benefit. These parents or parents-in-law may utilize the USMTF pharmacy for items maintained in the formulary for prescriptions written by military or civilian providers. Any prescriptions for non-formulary medications will be the responsibility of the parent or parent-in-law. If your sponsor is deceased and you remarry a non-DoD sponsor you will lose your DoD healthcare entitlement effective the date of that marriage. Any claims generated and paid by TRICARE after the date of marriage will be recouped regardless of when the marriage is reported. For more detailed information on TRICARE please visit <http://www.tricare.mil>, or contact the Beneficiary Counseling and Assistance Coordinator at your nearest Air Force Medical Treatment Facility.

TRICARE offers the following choices:

- TRICARE Standard. TRICARE Standard allows you to see an authorized civilian health care provider of your choice however you should always check with the Regional (North, South, West, Overseas) Managed Care Support Contractor for a listing of those approved providers who accept TRICARE assignment and will file the claim for you. Otherwise you may be required to pay the provider up front and then file the claim yourself. The TRICARE Standard Option will require you to pay a deductible and cost share.
- TRICARE Extra. TRICARE Extra is a special incentive for those beneficiaries electing the TRICARE Standard Option. In the civilian world this program would be referred to as a “Preferred Provider Organization (PPO).” You will utilize health care providers who are part of an organized, contracted network who treat TRICARE eligible patients. You will get a discount on the cost sharing and do not have to file claims yourself – the provider does this for you. You don’t have to enroll or pay an annual fee for utilizing TRICARE Extra however you will have to satisfy an annual deductible for outpatient care just as you do under TRICARE Standard.
- TRICARE Prime. TRICARE Prime is a health maintenance organization-type option. Under this plan, which is currently the least costly health care option, you must get all of your care from the providers in the Managed Care Support Contractor civilian network where you are enrolled. Special provisions for emergency or urgent care are available while you may be travelling outside of your enrolled network and in those instances you must always notify your Primary Care Manager (PCM) for his/her authorization. Your care is managed through your PCM whom you select or to whom you are assigned. Your PCM initiates, and the health care finder authorizes, all specialty care referrals according to the TRICARE contractor policies. Rather than paying deductibles and cost shares, you pay an annual enrollment fee and small co-payments whenever you visit a civilian provider or get a prescription filled at a civilian pharmacy.
- TRICARE Plus. TRICARE Plus affords you priority outpatient care at those locations where capacity may permit the USMTF Commander to offer this enrollment option. The beneficiary must reside within the USMTF catchment area to enroll in this plan. This option offers TRICARE Prime-like access to the USMTF with no enrollment fees. However, TRICARE Standard/Extra cost shares or TRICARE For Life benefits apply to care received in civilian facilities/providers. Additionally, TRICARE Plus is not a portable benefit, i.e., enrollment at one facility does not guarantee access or transfer of enrollment to another USMTF.
- TRICARE For Life (TFL). TFL provides comprehensive health care coverage and serves as TRICARE’s wraparound coverage available worldwide for Medicare-eligible uniformed services beneficiaries, their eligible family members, and survivors. You may seek care from any Medicare-authorized provider and you may continue to seek care at a USMTF on a space-available basis. When you receive medical care from a Medicare-authorized provider, your provider files the claim with Medicare. Medicare then processes the claim and electronically forwards the claim to TFL for payment of the remaining amount. TRICARE automatically sends payment to your provider and you will receive an explanation of benefits from TRICARE indicating the amount Medicare and TRICARE paid.

If you receive services covered by TRICARE but not covered by Medicare, TRICARE is the only payer and you are responsible for the TRICARE deductibles and cost-shares. Similarly, for services covered by Medicare but not covered by TRICARE, Medicare is the only payer and you are responsible for the Medicare cost-shares. Additionally, Medicare benefits are not available overseas. However by enrolling in Medicare Part B, while you are living or travelling overseas, TFL works similar to TRICARE Standard. You will have the same coverage as retirees under age 65, and you are responsible for the same TRICARE cost-shares and deductibles.

In addition to comprehensive medical coverage, you are also eligible for TRICARE's pharmacy benefit and can fill prescriptions at USMTF pharmacies, through the TRICARE Mail Order Pharmacy (TMOP), or at retail network and non-network pharmacies. Enrollment in the Medicare Part D (Prescription Drug Coverage) program is usually not recommended since you will receive no added benefit or value and will be required to pay a monthly premium for Part D coverage. Remember, there is no special enrollment and there are currently no premiums for TRICARE For Life coverage. All you need to do is pay your monthly Medicare Part B Premium. The premium is, in most cases, automatically deducted from your Social Security check once you enroll in Medicare Part B.

DEERS will send you a letter approximately 90 days before you turn age 65, outlining the changes in your TRICARE benefits. Please keep your contact information, particularly your mailing address, up-to-date in DEERS. The Social Security Administration (SSA) will also notify you regarding your impending Medicare entitlement. If you have not been contacted by the SSA by 30 days before your 65th birth month, you should contact the SSA for assistance. For more information you may contact: Defense Manpower Data Center (DMDC) at 1-800-538-9552 or the SSA at 1-800-772-1213.

* If you are under age 65 and become eligible for Medicare due to disability or end stage renal disease, you are required to purchase Medicare Part B, unless you are an active duty family member, to retain your TRICARE coverage.

- FEDVIP Dental and Vision Coverage. FEDVIP is available to retirees, spouses, un-remarried surviving spouses, and eligible children of deceased retired members. For more details, go to: <https://www.benefeds.com> or you may call 1-877-888-3337.

4. Commissary Privileges. Subject to the installation commander's determination of availability, the un-remarried or unmarried surviving spouse is eligible for commissary privileges. He or she may, with approval of the local installation commander, let an agent make purchases under certain circumstances. All members of the family living in the house may use purchases.

5. Base Exchange Privileges. Subject to the installation commander's determination of availability, the Base Exchange offers various services and facilities, depending on the base's population and what's available in the local civilian sector, such as theaters, barber shops, service stations, clothing stores, dry cleaning, optical shops, package stores, and other sales stores. The un-remarried or unmarried surviving spouse is eligible for Base Exchange services or, with approval of the installation commander; an agent may be allowed to make purchases under certain circumstances.

6. Lodging. Subject to the installation commander's determination of availability, eligible family members may occupy lodging on a space-available basis when approved by the installation commander. Contact the lodging office to determine the commander's policy and to request accommodations. Family members must have current ID cards.

7. Motion Picture Theater Privileges. Subject to the installation commander's determination of availability, eligible family members can attend motion picture theaters on military installations. Family members must have current ID cards.

8. Recreation Activities. Subject to the installation commander's determination of availability, as an unremarried or unmarried surviving spouse, you are entitled to membership in the Officers' or Enlisted Open Mess. The same applies to you and your children in the use of other recreational activities on a military installation such as the golf course, fitness center, bowling alley, and hobby shops.

Section F – Miscellaneous Rights and Benefits

1. Basic Information. Eligible family members may be entitled to other federal and state rights and benefits not in this guide. Please read the brief description of each right or benefit. If you think you may qualify for a benefit and are interested, ask your CAR or nearest VA office for more information.

2. Commercial Insurance. For commercial insurance, you should contact the nearest representative or the home office of the company for settlement. Your CAR can advise you of any insurance allotments that were being deducted from the member's pay.

3. Emergency Financial Assistance. The Air Force Aid Society (AFAS) (visit their website at <http://afas.org/home>) offers qualifying family members financial assistance in the form of interest-free loans or grants during personal and family emergencies. Aid may be given for such purposes as food, rent, utilities, essential car repair, and certain medical and dental care. Assistance is based on an immediate emergency need and not meant to be ongoing. The assistance is available through AFAS usually located in the Airman & Family Readiness Center (A&FRC) at most Air Force installations. If there is not an A&FRC near you, the AFAS has cross-servicing assistance agreements with the American Red Cross, Army Emergency Relief, the Navy/Marine Corps Relief Society, and Coast Guard Mutual Assistance. For additional details, contact the base A&FRC Air Force Aid Society section or visit the Air Force Aid Society website at <http://afas.org/EA>.

4. Legal Assistance. Consultation and advice on all civil legal matters are provided to the retiree's survivors on a space-available basis. Eligible family members may need or wish to obtain legal advice and assistance in connection with settling the estate of the deceased member, making a new will for the surviving spouse, taxation questions, and other related legal matters. Your CAR may put you in contact with a legal assistance officer who can counsel you in these matters. The legal assistance officer can help in preparing the initial income tax return but can only give preliminary advice on probate and settlement of the estate, court appearances, preparation of inheritance tax returns, or in regard to civilian employment and business matters. Since these matters are outside the scope of the Legal Assistance Program, it may be necessary for survivors to obtain the services of civilian counsel. If you are not acquainted with an attorney and want help in obtaining one, the legal assistance officer can refer you to such counsel through the local bar association. Government agencies, such as the VA, Social Security Administration, and the DFAS will help you in processing your claims for benefits and entitlements. Such matters are expeditiously handled without resort to civilian counsel or expense to you. In case of factual disputes or conflicting claims, it might be wise to have civilian counsel.

5. Civilian Employment. If the retiree was employed after retirement from the Air Force, check with his/her employer for possible company survivor benefits.

6. Civil Service Job Preference. A surviving spouse may be eligible to receive 10-point veterans' service preference for federal service employment if the deceased retiree served in wartime or in a peacetime campaign or expedition for which the retiree received a campaign badge or service medal. You can obtain information about this point preference and available federal employment from a federal Civilian Personnel Office.

7. State Benefits. Many states have passed laws providing certain rights, benefits, and privileges to the surviving spouse and children of the deceased service member. These benefits include bonuses, educational assistance, employment opportunities, tax relief, and others. Seek further information on the laws pertaining to a particular state from local government officials, the nearest VA office, or from local veterans' organizations, such as the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Disabled American Veterans.

8. Income Tax Benefits. You may wish to contact the nearest office of the Internal Revenue Service for information and guidance regarding your federal tax status. Excluded from gross income for income tax purposes are: Social Security benefits; burial benefits; VA pension and compensation payments; property, including cash money received as a gift under will provisions; and face amount of all life insurance policies.

Eligible persons may receive up to 45 months of schooling (or the equivalent if enrolled part-time) in VA-approved schools and colleges. In addition to the Dependents' Educational Assistance Program, various programs are available to help children reach their educational goals. To obtain additional information, contact your nearest VA office or visit the VA website at http://www.va.gov/opa/persona/dependent\_survivor.asp.

15. Scholarship Information. Many states, universities, and other groups sponsor scholarship programs for the children of deceased service members, particularly those with wartime service. Contact your high school guidance counselor and local library for further information.

16. Home Loan Guaranteed by the VA. An un-remarried spouse of a retiree who died from a service-connected injury or illness may be eligible for a government-insured home loan benefit. To determine your eligibility, apply to the nearest VA office or visit the VA website at <http://www.benefits.va.gov/homeloans/>.

17. Retiree Activities Office. Most Air Force installations have dedicated groups of retired military members and spouses who donate their time and talents at Retiree Activities Offices (RAOs). These volunteers have resources and time to provide survivors with assistance other than those provided by the local CAR. Since volunteers staff the RAO, office hours vary, but their phone number is listed with the base operator.

18. Airman & Family Readiness Center (A&FRC). The A&FRC is a service organization for Air Force families and a focal point for family matters. They help family members identify and clarify needs, determine appropriate forms of assistance and provide linkage to those resources. Appropriate referral is ensured through follow-up. In addition, they provide a range of prevention and enrichment services designed to help family members adapt to current and future changes in their lives. These programs are presented at the A&FRC by staff members, other base agencies or by agencies from the local civilian community.

19. Credit Unions, Banks, and Charge Accounts. Contact all financial institutions concerning transfer of accounts to the survivor's name. Also, ask about any insurance associated with the accounts.

The DD Form 1300 is used to provide an official record of the death of a military member. You may use this in place of a civil death certificate when proof of death is necessary. Government agencies and most commercial life insurance companies use the DD Form 1300 as the basis for paying benefits. It may be used to cash bonds or to settle other civil or financial matters. - Spouse.
- Natural, adopted, and stepchildren. Illegitimate children if acknowledged by the member or so determined by a court.
- Parents, unless a court or a statute has granted sole legal custody of the member to someone else.
- Persons standing in loco parentis.
- Persons granted legal custody of the member by court or statute.
- Siblings, including those gained through adoption.
- Grandparents.

- If no other persons are available, the Secretary of the Military Department may act on behalf of the member.
